Madison adds 2 new officers, honors others

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Madison Police Department welcomed two new officers to the force and recognized several other officers for life saving measures and valor at Tuesday's meeting of Madison City Council at City Hall.

Unlike recent meetings where seating was limited and chairs were placed well apart for social distancing, Tuesday's big crowd filled the chambers and overflowed into the lobby but with attendees wearing face masks and the crowd quickly departing as the city worked through their business on the agenda, there was soon plenty of separation between audience members.

Nichole Midgett and Jordan S. Perry were both administered the oath of office and received their badges with family members in attendance. Perry has worked for the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office, already completed the law enforcement academy and is currently assigned to night shift while Midgett will join the November class at the police academy.

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney issued the oath of office to two new Madison police officers Tuesday night. Jordan S. Perry covered up with a face mask while taking his oath.

Det. Ricky Harris was presented the city's Hometown Hero Award, Officer Josh Nolan and Brad Demaree both received the Life Saving Medal of Honor and Nolan and Officer Brian Ashcraft

First of 3 kidnapping suspects sentenced to 12 years in prison

Hines could be released by 21st birthday

Elanie Hines

BY COLLIN OVERTON

One of the three teenagers involved in the abduction and assault of a 14-year-old Madison girl last year was sentenced Monday to serve 12 years at the Indiana Department of Corrections — six of that allowed at supervised Community Corrections — in the completion of a sentencing hearing that began on July 21.

Elanie Hines, now 18, of Madison, had pleaded guilty to kidnapping, a Level 3 felony, in connection with the June 19, 2019 abduction, assault, intimidation and humiliation of a 14-year-old acquaintance over a period of four to five hours, some of which was captured on video.

Live music hanging tough amid pandemic

CHARLIE ROHLFING
CHARLIE'S BEAT

Perhaps as a testament to the vitality of the music culture here in Madison, and owing to our wealth of musical talent that just can't be denied, opportunities to experience and enjoy live music continue to abound, in spite of the pandemic.

As I've mentioned in previous columns, the outdoor venues are extremely popular right now, including Mad Paddle Brewery, Thomas Family Winery, The Lighthouse and Riverboat Inn.

It's also very encouraging that the Broadway Tavern is starting to feature some live music again. If you've lived in Madison for any length of time you know the Broadway used to be one of the cornerstones of the music scene, and it's good to see them dipping their toe in the waters again. I will try to get an interview with them soon and report their plans for the future.

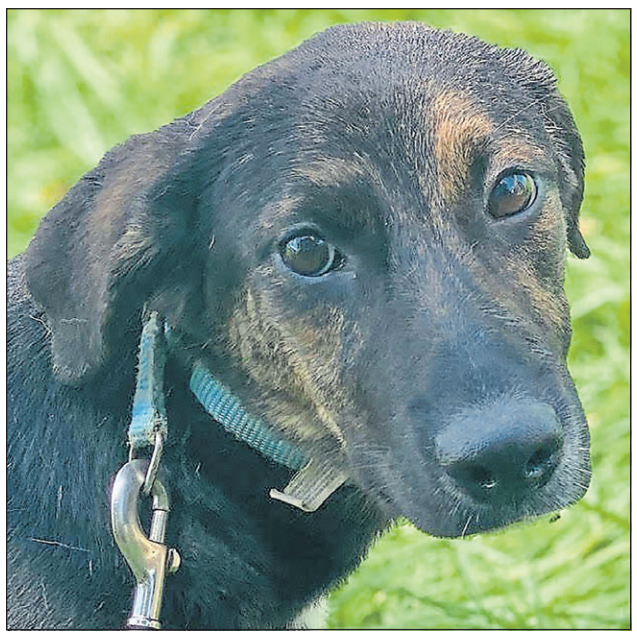
PETS OF THE WEEK



MOLLY, A 10-MONTH-OLD, MIX BREED FEMALE

ALYSSA, A 1-YEAR-OLD, DOMESTIC SHORT HAIR FEMALE

The Madison-Jefferson County Animal Shelter currently has a number of dogs and cats and kittens available for adoption.

Molly, a 10-month-old mix breed female, is playful, loving and sweet and looking for her furever home. She would do best in a home where she can explore and be comfortable. Although a little timid at first when she meets new people, once she warms up to you she will stick by your side.

Alyssa, a one-year-old, domestic short hair female is also sweet, very loving and playful. She just had a litter of kittens but they've all found furever homes and now it's her turn. She would like a home where she can roam and seek attention when she wants it — which is all the time since she is an overly loving pet — so open her cage and hold her but don't be surprised if she eventually climbs up onto your shoulders to sit and love on you as long as she can. If she sounds like your perfect cat, call the call the shelter and ask for Alyssa.

The Madison-Jefferson County Animal Shelter has pictures of additional pets waiting for adoption for viewing at www.sisaveapet.com. The shelter is currently open, but in light of COVID-19, will only take appointments and will not accept walk-in customers. To request an appointment, email animal.shelter39@jeffersoncounty.in.gov. All cats and kittens are $45 off unless they are already spayed or neutered.

Volunteers are always welcome at the shelter. Individuals must be at least 16 years old to volunteer. Volunteers can help with everyday cleaning, answering phones, and exercising the pets. Contact the shelter for details.

The shelter is also currently in need of both wet and dry kitten food as well as plain clay cat litter. A list of needed items can be found on the shelter website. Donations can be mailed to 2727 Hannah Drive, Madison, IN 47250 or dropped off during shelter hours.

Those with missing pets can call or email a complete description of the pet, when and where it was last seen, the owner's name and contact information, and a picture of the pet. Pets are held for three days before they are made available for adoption. Animals should not be abandoned outside of the shelter or dropped off at the shelter after hours. For animal control issues in Madison, call 812-265-3347. For animal control issues in Hanover and Jefferson County, call 812-265-2648.

3 charged in Carroll drug arrest

BY COLLIN OVERTON

The Carroll County Sheriff's Office arrested three suspects in Carrollton Sunday after an investigation into a fight in front of a local residence led to the discovery of an alleged small drug trafficking operation.

Sheriff Ryan Gosser said officers were dispatched to 214 Main Street after a neighbor reported an altercation between two females fighting over a purse. The investigation led police to an apartment building at 218 Main Street where they discovered an ounce of methamphetamine, $773 in cash, an unspecified amount of heroin, other pills, a rifle, two smaller firearms and drug paraphernalia.

Three Carrollton residents were arrested including John Sienczenko, 47, charged with trafficking a controlled substance, possession of methamphetamine enhanced with firearms and possession of drug paraphernalia; Jacob Hazelwood, 38, was charged with trafficking a controlled substance, possession of methamphetamine enhanced with firearms, possession of paraphernalia and tampering with physical evidence.

Officers also charged Roxanne Arvin, 37, with trafficking a controlled substance, possession of methamphetamine, possession of paraphernalia and possession of heroin.

All three were lodged in the Carroll County Detention Center and released on own recognizance bonds.

The Carrollton Police Department also assisted.

Closure underway for SR 250 slide repairs

The Indiana Department of Transportation has announced up to a three week closure of SR 250 in Switzerland County to make slide repairs just west of Patriot.

The closure was to begin Wednesday, Aug. 5, and take two to three weeks to complete work to stabilize 155 feet of roadway. The official detour will follow SR 56 and SR 156 but local access will be maintained until the point of closure.

Motorists are reminded to slow down, use extra caution and drive distraction-free through all work zones. All work is weather dependent.

OFFICERS

were presented Medals of Valor, all for their intervention in life-threatening calls during the line of duty.

The council also heard a report by Utility Manager Brian Jackson on a project to drain and inspect the city's six water tanks and on the moratorium on water and sewer cutoffs during the COVID-19 emergency.

Jackson said Pittsburgh Tanks and Tower has begun it's inspection and cleaning of water tanks in the city, including the two one-million-gallon tanks near the Department of Correction on the hilltop, the tower each on Wilson Avenue and Shun Pike, a tower near Hanover and a hillside tank on the east end of downtown Madison. The towers drained so far have been in pretty good shape but the draining of the tower at Hanover caused a low water pressure situation for several customers. Work could continue for the rest of August.

Jackson said the moratorium on disconnections was extended to Aug. 15, and so far there are 162 delinquent accounts on the hilltop and 77 downtown for a total of about $31,000 in outstanding bills. He said in the city's July bills customers were urged to pay what they can afford because once the COVID moratorium ends, all past due bills will accrue and there will most likely be a repayment plan for the outstanding balance as well as a bill due for new monthly charges.

Economic Development Director Matt Wirth reported that most COVID recovery grant allocations have run out but the city is seeking sources for new funding to help struggling businesses.

Wirth also reported that the city is in negotiations with the Madison Plaza property owner for an extension to the city's plans to market that dormant property.

He also reported that the city is involved in talks with an independent grocer to see what Madison needs to do to bring a grocery store back downtown and has entertained an industrial client from Nebraska that is looking for a site for an approximately $900,000 industry that would employ about one dozen workers at wage rate that is higher than the county's current average.

Mayor Bob Courtney reported that Madison Parks Director Seth Pennington, a hire earlier this spring, had resigned to take another job in the community. Assistant Director Matt Woolard will serve as interim director until the position can be advertised and filled.

Local resident and business owner Stephanie Hellmann questioned the city's policy of closing Crystal Beach Pool early if no patrons are on hand by late afternoon. She noted that workers don't get off shifts until 5 p.m. and closing the pool early prevents access at the only time they can use the facility.

Courtney said the decision was financial and that by closing when nobody is using the pool, the city hopes to save enough money to keep the pool open Fridays through Sundays through Labor Day Weekend. However, he did note the city can revisit the policy.

MUSIC

If you are OK with indoor venues I've been seeing that the L&L Lounge up on the hilltop, located at Cragmont and State streets, has been featuring Saturday night live music. They tend towards good party dance music, either rock or country.

We shouldn't forget the perennial outdoor events like Music in the Park and Music at the Market. The monthly Music in the Park series moves from the Broadway Fountain to Bicentennial Park this month on Friday, Aug. 14 , and features Amy Noel opening for The Rumors.

Music at the Market is every Saturday at the Broadway Fountain during the weekly Farmer's Market. This event, sponsored by our good friends at Friendship State Bank, has been a showcase for local acoustic talent for several years now. Go pick up some fresh corn and enjoy the music for a while.

HOT TIP OF THE WEEK

The best bet this weekend is a double feature at Mad Paddle Brewery's outdoor patio. On Friday a great singer/songwriter named Dennis O'Hagan is swinging through Madison on his Great Brewery Tour. The tour started way back in 2018 and he's finally making a swing through Indiana and Ohio. Check him out! Then on Saturday Madison's own Amy Noel takes to the Mad Padio with backing from Joe Perkinson and Michael Fortunato on sax and flute.

Charlie Rohlfing is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd, anywhere live local music is happening.

SUSPECTS

Two other defendants — Hailey P. Bartley, now 17, of Hanover, and Jaylon Walker Wayne Pace, now 20, of Madison — have also pleaded guilty in the case and are currently awaiting sentencing.

According to a police affidavit, Hines and Bartley showed up at a residence on Robin Court in Madison where the victim was staying overnight with the friend and accused her of touching another girl on the thigh in a sexual manner and began verbally and physically assaulting her. The victim was preparing for bed when the two forced her to go with them to Hines' residence on Skyline Drive where the assault escalated both verbally and physically.

Hines and Bartley struck the girl numerous times in the head and face, held her down and shaved her head with electric clippers, dunked her head in a toilet, threatened her with a knife and warned her that if she told anyone about the incident they would have "people from Indianapolis kill her."

Pace captured portions of the ordeal on video using Bartley's cell phone and could be seen in segments of the video handing the girls a bottle of liquid that was then poured on the victim.

Pace was the only person of legal adult age charged at the time of the assault, but all three teenagers were charged as adults and agreed to plea deals after originally facing multiple felony charges including strangulation, obstruction of justice, battery resulting in serious bodily injury and intimidation.

Under a plea agreement negotiated with the Jefferson County Prosecutor's Office and accepted by Jefferson Circuit Judge DJ Mote, Hines pleaded guilty to kidnapping, Bartley pleaded guilty to criminal confinement and Pace pleaded guilty to aiding, inducing or causing an offense (kidnapping), all Level 3 felonies.

The sentencing hearings for Hines and Bartley began on July 21 following a long delay in the court proceedings due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Bartley's sentencing is now scheduled to continue on Sept. 4 while Pace has asked the court to delay his sentencing until after the other two defendants are sentenced.

On July 21, Jefferson County Sheriff's Det. Yancey Denning testified as to the violent nature of the attack and a psychiatrist and a child victim's advocate both testified on the mental toll the kidnapping and battery have taken on the young victim.

At Monday's hearing, Hines' own childhood abuse and post-traumatic stress were presented as mitigating circumstances by defense attorney Michaelia Gilbert, who also noted Hines' remorse for the incident.

Hines' mother, Misty Short, tearfully testified that Hines has had a difficult childhood and has changed hands between her, Hines' father and the Department of Child Services.

Hines herself later testified that she had been abused by her mother, stepfather and biological father, who she said would try to solicit Hines to his friends for sex in exchange for drugs while under his care.

Gilbert pleaded for a lesser sentence of nine years with six served on probation to allow Hines to attend culinary or cosmetology school and rehabilitate her life.

Deputy Prosecutor Blaine Goode said Hines' past problems did not excuse her for causing the trauma experienced by the victim, who has suffered severe psychological consequences and attempted suicide numerous times at home and once at a mental hospital since the incident. Goode also referenced a report by a Court Appointed Special Advocate that Hines has exhibited threatening and intimidating behavior while staying at Bloomington Meadows Hospital for several months and said it was unlikely Hines would pursue school if not for the situation she was now in.

Citing a forensic interview, Goode said Hines and Bartley had both considered "burning" the victim, drawing a comparison to a similar teenage kidnapping and battery case in Madison that resulted in the January 1992 death of a 12-year-old New Albany girl. Goode said Hines' actions clearly justified the 12-year sentence, all at the DOC.

In passing sentence, Mote gave serious weight to the psychological damage caused by the incident, especially when Hines and Bartley held the victim down and shaved her head with electric trimmers. He noted the vulnerability of the younger victim, who according to court documents knew Hines and would have trusted her not to cause her harm and send Snapchat videos of the incident to friends as Hines had also done.

Videos obtained by law enforcement from Bartley's phone showed the victim pleading "I just want to go home" and refusing to fight her attackers despite Hines and Barley telling her to fight back or they would just make it worse, he said.

"I think it is very, very distressing that she trusted you, you were older, you were bigger, and you were probably — in the group there — most able to protect her or stop all of it," Mote told Hines.

"Several factors came together to bring Hines to justice," said Jefferson County Prosecutor David Sutter. "The outstanding work of Jefferson County Sheriff's Department Deputy (Charles) Miller and Detective Denning gave us the evidence we needed for a strong case. I'm also impressed by the bravery of the victim in coming forward."

Sutter said the victim participated in a forensic interview conducted by the Children's Advocacy Center of Southeastern Indiana with Dr. Lucinda Woodward and volunteer Linda Zapp, and that the interview was a contributing factor in securing a conviction.

"Ms. Zapp and Dr. Woodward helped make sure the victim was cared for, and that her voice was heard in the courtroom during sentencing. Their work was invaluable." Sutter said.

Hines will receive credit for the 411 days she has spent in custody since her arrest and, with good behavior, could likely be released from prison by her 21st birthday to begin serving the remainder of her sentence in supervised Community Corrections.

"I hope the sentence here demonstrates that such conduct will not be tolerated in our community." Sutter said.

Shields ready to take over Southwestern soccer

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Photos by David Campbell

Seth Shields is what you call a soccer lifer. The former Madison Consolidated High School standout lives and breathes the sport, coaching it all levels and still getting on the pitch every chance he can to kick the ball around.

But despite that love of the sport, Shields never thought that he would end up as a high school varsity head coach. But on Monday, that's the role he assumed as the new head coach of the Southwestern High School boys soccer program.

"When I first got into coaching, coaching U-8 and U-10, I never thought I would coach at the high school level or even the middle school level," Shields said Tuesday before practice. "When (Southwestern athletic director Tom Scroggins) talked to me a few years ago about coaching middle school, I was like, 'that's a much higher league. I don't think I'm ready for that.' Now, here I am."

Shields graduated from Madison in 2004 and returned home after college to begin working in the lab at King's Daughters' Health. Along the way he married and he and his wife, Ashley, are expecting their first child at the end of this month.

But Shields was never too far away from the sport he loved. He began coaching with the Jefferson County Soccer Association and continued to work his way up, eventually taking over the Southwestern Middle School team six years ago.

He spent the past four years as an assistant coach for the Southwestern boys varsity team where the Rebels won the 2016 sectional championship. When head coach Kevin Dillman decided to step away after last season, Shields was the natural choice to replace him.

Shields admits that he was reluctant to take the job at first. He had been overseeing a new soccer league based at the Lide White Boys & Girls Club which was looking to expand and with the arrival of his new baby, Shields wasn't sure that he would have time for the job. But in the end, he decided that it was an opportunity he couldn't pass up.

"Between work, family and the soccer leagues, there isn't going to be a lot of free time." Shields said. "But I'm looking forward to it."

The team Shields inherits won just two games last year and will have a much different feel than teams of the past. But Shields is optimistic that this group has a chance to return the Rebels to their former place of glory.

"We have one senior and nine freshmen so even though I coached her last year, I only know about half of the players," Shields said with a laugh. "But we have some really nice athletes and a strong middle school program so I know they're coming in ready. High school is a different speed and we have some work to do, but I really like this group."

For Shields, the key to the season is teaching fundamentals. An admitted lover of offense, Shields said he's developed a greater appreciation of defense as he has gotten older and that is the one aspect in which he plans on having his team excel.

"I was a midfielder in high school and I was all about the scoring," Shields said with a smile. "But as I've gotten into coaching, I realize that defense is the most important thing. Obviously you have to still score goals, but if you can shut the other team down it will take that pressure off of the offense and you can even create scoring opportunities. We're going to work a lot on defense."

Shields was one of two varsity coaches that Southwestern hired late last month. Former Madison coach Dan Thurston was hired to take over the Southwestern baseball program, replacing long-time coach Derik Hutton, who left to become the principal at South Ripley Middle School.

Madison golf opens season with two matches

Madison's girls golf team hit the course for its first matches of the 2020 season on Monday and Tuesday.

On Monday, Madison shot a 412 18-hole team score to finish 14th at the very tough Bloomington South Invitational. Junior Keara Eder led the way for the Cubs with an 84 while Jenna Imel shot a 100, Grace Bronkella had a 101, Ally Skirvin had a 127 and Gibson James a non-scoring 134.

"I saw a lot of good things out there today even though I know the ladies are not very enthusiastic about their scores. And that's understandable. We probably left 30 strokes in putts out there today. Shoot, we might have left another 10 to 15 in course management," Madison coach Jake Shockley said. "I was happy with how they played today. We had a much rougher start last year, and I think we are going to continue to get better as long as they work hard. I feel like putting and course management are quite a bit easier to correct than building swings full stop. We just need reps."

Evansville North won the event with a 286, one stroke better than Carmel's 287. North's Faith Johnson and Carmel's Katie Kuc each shot 68s to share medalist honors.

Madison got right back on the course on Tuesday, defeating Hoosier Hills Conference rival Jennings County 206-220 in a nine-hole dual meet at Sunrise Golf Course.

Eder shot a 3-over 39 to take low-medalist honors while Imel had a 50, Bronkella a 53, Gracie Gasaway a 64 with Skirvin carding a non-scoring 65.

Sophia Curry led Jennings with a 44, Alexis Carson had a 51, Lauren Galvan a 56, Emma Kirchner a 69 and Emma Jones a non-scoring 70.

"Keara got it going a little bit which was nice. She had a double bogey on eight, which isn't the first time I've seen hole 8 ruin a score. If Keara can just continue to fine-tune as the season progresses, I think we might be able to see some very good scores when it is all said and done," Shockley said. "I was pleasantly surprised by Gracie's 64. It was her first golf match since seventh grade since she couldn't play in the spring. She kept improving as the match went on, too. So, for her to start out there is encouraging."

Madison was to compete in the Seymour Invitational on Wednesday and Saturday's match at New Albany has been rescheduled to Aug. 29. The Cubs' next match will be on Monday at home against Henryville.

Shawe was scheduled to host Switzerland County at Sunrise on Monday but that match was canceled due to inclement weather. Switzerland hosts Jac-Cen-Del at Belterra Casino Golf Course today and both Shawe and Switzerland will head to Butler Falls Golf Course in Hanover on Friday to face Southwestern.

Feeling alone during isolation

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I feel some days I just can't handle our society and the cruelty of men and women toward other humans or defenseless animals. My life has been full of neglect, disrespect, abuse (mental and physical) and loneliness, so I'm accustomed to it. However, when I hear a story about people neglecting an innocent child, or a dog being left inside a crate abandoned, or a kid going to a party to see if he can get COVID-19 and then dying ... my depression kicks in so deep that I cry and want to be left alone because I know others don't understand this feeling. I just can't seem to get these thoughts out of my head.

I've been to therapy. It was too expensive, and the therapist told me to try to understand the person perpetrating the abuse and their reasons for doing it. To me, there are no excuses for being evil unless you need help. And if that's the case, please don't hurt those that can't fight back.

I cry for days about these stories and wish that there were a superhero among us to save these innocent lives. But my depression has gotten the best of me, and I've begun hurting myself by burning my arms with whatever gets hot. Recently, I tried a psychologist; he was definitely in his own world and era and didn't understand what I was going through.

I live in a town that doesn't supply free group therapy. My insurance won't help this kind of illness, so I was hoping you could help me with maybe a free website that can help someone. Thanks. — Deeply Depressed in Life

Dear Deeply Depressed: You're not alone — not ever, and especially not now. With quarantine, many people who have struggled with depression and/or loneliness in the past are overwhelmed with it.

Know that you won't be consumed by these thoughts forever. Though the upsetting issues that you mentioned are very much real and worth considering, such thoughts tend to become "stickier" during bouts of depression. The core issue that needs addressing right now is your mental health and physical safety, so I'm glad that you're reaching out to find support.

The Anxiety and Depression Association of America (https://adaa.org/adaa-online-support-group) offers free online support groups, as does Turn2Me.org. 7 Cups of Tea (7cups.com) offers free and low-cost counseling.

Reconnecting without expectations

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I'm 73 years old and having feelings like a 17-year-old. "Richard" and I were an item in high school. It ended when my mother would no longer let me see him. I didn't know why at the time. Many years later, I figured out why; but it's complicated and has no bearing on what's going on now. However, I always regretted how things ended for us.

Eventually, I met and married someone else. Richard met and married someone else.

Fast-forward to about two years ago: I got a Facebook friend request from Richard's wife, "Mary." I'd never met her. My first thought was, "Does she know that I'm a former girlfriend of her husband?" I didn't respond, thinking it was a bit odd and not a good idea. You see, through all those years, I thought about Richard off and on, regretting not having him in my life.

Recently, I saw in the newspaper obituaries that Mary died. They have two grown children. Mary and Richard were married for more than 50 years. In a way, I'm envious. I've been married twice, divorced twice, and single for the last 13 years. (Though I'm blessed to have three grown children, seven grandchildren and some great-grand-children.)

I thought about writing a condolence on the funeral home webpage and decided it was not appropriate. But on the internet, I found Richard's home address and phone number (he's in a neighboring town). It seems inappropriate to contact Richard so soon.

I have no idea if he's ever thought of me. His birthday is Dec. 26. Now, I'm thinking maybe a condolence/birthday greeting in December? What would you advise? — Mad About Him

Dear Mad About Him: There is no timeline for these things. The key is to be respectful of his space and do away with expectations. Only send him a card in December if you're willing to accept friendship rather than romance. Perhaps, one day, he will be interested in striking up a relationship, but that can't be your expectation.

Dear Annie: I've been seeing a married man lately, and I can just tell from the looks on my friends' faces that they don't approve. The way I see it, his marital problems have nothing to do with me. His and I have a relationship that is totally separate from that, in many ways. How can I get my friends to stop judging me? — Miffed

Dear Miffed: When you feel like a nail, everything looks like a hammer. You must be harboring at least a little guilt over this affair, or you wouldn't be seeing judgment on friends' faces.

Notice of Public comment Period on Memorandum of Agreement for the Graham Creek Bridge Replacement Project
The public is invited to review and comment on a draft Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) for the proposed Graham Creek Bridge Replacement Project in Jennings County, Indiana. The draft document can be viewed at www.madisonrailroad.com and https://www.regulations.gov/docket?D=FRA-2020-005l. Comments can be shared directly with the Federal Railroad Administration by visiting the regulations.gov link or by searching regulations.gov for Docket Number FRA-2020-0051. The comment period is open August 3, 2020 through August 18, 2020.
The project consists of removing the existing Graham Creek Bridge, moved to its current location in 1909, and replacing it with a new bridge approximately 260 feet in length and consisting of four 65-foot steel plate deck girder spans. The steel structure of the existing bridge will be cut up and removed from the site, and the current concrete and timber abutments will also be removed. The project activities will occur within the railroad right-of-way and require new ground disturbance within the right-of-way in order to construct temporary access roads and construction platforms. After construction of the new bridge, the construction access roads, platforms, and debris will be removed from the site, and vegetation restored.
The structure is being constructed partially with public funds, including a $4.2 million CRIS! Grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), being administered by the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA). Partial funding from the State ofIndiana (INDOT) and local entities will also be utilized. The project sponsor is Madison Railroad.
The FRA must comply with Section I 06 of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) before authorizing the use of DOT funds to replace the bridge. Section 106 is a four-step process that requires federal agencies to consider the impacts of their actions on historic properties.
Because this project will adversely impact a historic property, FRA is drafting a MOA to resolve those adverse effects. FRA and Madison Railroad invite public comment on that MOA in order to fulfil the requirements of the NHPA and the National Enviromnental Policy Act (NEPA).

NOTICE OF REAL PROPERTY TAX SALE
Jefferson County Indiana
Beginning 10:00 AM, 09/16/2020
Courthouse Local Time

Jefferson County

Pursuant to the laws of the Indiana General Assembly, notice is hereby given that the following described property is listed for sale for delinquent taxes and/or special assessments. The county auditor and county treasurer will apply on or after 08/28/2020 for a court judgment against the tracts or real property for an amount that is not less than the amount set out below and for an order to sell the tracts or real property at public auction to the highest bidder, subject to the right of redemption. Any defense to the application for judgment must be filed with the Jefferson County Circuit Court and served on the county auditor and treasurer before 08/28/2020. The court will set a date for a hearing at least seven (7) days before the advertised date of sale and the court will determine any defenses to the application for judgment at the hearing. The county auditor and the county treasurer are entitled to receive all pleadings, motions, petitions, and other filings related to the defense to the application for judgment.

Such sale will be held on 09/16/2020 at the Courthouse and that sale will continue until all tracts and real property have been offered for sale. At the discretion of local officials, the tax sale may switch to an online format. If those measures are taking place, the public auction will be conducted as an electronic sale under IC 6-1.1-24-2(b)10 at www.zeusauction.com commencing on the same date / time listed above. All location updates will be posted at www.sriservices.com prior to the tax sale.

Property will not be sold for an amount which is less than the sum of: (A) the delinquent taxes and special assessments on each tract or item of real property; and

(B) the taxes and special assessments on the real property that are due and payable in the year of the sale, whether or not they are delinquent; and

(C) all penalties due on the delinquencies, and

(D) an amount prescribed by the county auditor that equals the sum of: (1) twenty-five dollars ($25) for postage and publication costs; and

(2) any other costs incurred by the county that are directly attributable to the tax sale; and

(E) any unpaid costs due under IC 6-1.1-24-2(c) from a prior tax sale.

Please note that the minimum bids listed may change due to the application of penalties on July 10, 2020.

No property listed below shall be sold if, at any time before the sale, the Total Amount for Judgment is paid in full. If the real property is sold in the tax sale, the amount required to redeem such property will be 110% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed not more than six (6) months after the date of sale, or 115% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed more than six (6) months after the date of sale, plus the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the real property plus five percent (5%) per annum interest on the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the property. All taxes and special assessments upon the property paid by the purchaser subsequent to the sale, plus five percent (5%) per annum interest on those taxes and special assessments, will also be required to be paid to redeem such property.

In addition, IC 6-1.1-25-2 (e) states the total amount required for redemption may include the following costs incurred and paid by the purchaser or the purchaser's assignee or the county before redemption: (1) The attorney's fees and cost of giving notice under IC 6-1.1-25-4.5; (2) The costs of title search or examining and update the abstract of title for the tract or item of real property. The period of redemption shall expire on Thursday, September 16, 2021 for certificates sold in the tax sale. For certificates struck to the county, the period of redemption may expire Thursday, January 14, 2021.

If the tract or item of real property is sold for an amount more than the minimum bid and the property is not redeemed, the owner of record of the property who is divested of ownership at the time the tax deed is issued may have a right to the tax sale surplus.

The Auditor and Treasurer specifically reserve the right to withhold from the sale any parcel which has been listed in error, or which otherwise becomes ineligible for sale either prior to 09/16/2020 or during the duration of the sale.

This notice of real property tax sale, and the tax sale itself are undertaken and will be conducted pursuant to the requirements of the laws of the State of Indiana which regulate the sale of land for delinquent taxes, pursuant to I.C. 6-1.1-24-1 et seq.

The County does not warrant the accuracy of the street address or common description of the property, and a misstatement in the key number or street address does not invalidate an otherwise valid sale.

Minimum bid amounts are prescribed by law and are subject to change prior to the auction date.

Pursuant to IC 6-1.1-24-3(e), property descriptions may be omitted for properties appearing on the certified list in consecutive years. A complete property list may be obtained at www.sriservices.com or in an alternative form upon request.

Once, kids played like their lives depended on it. If only kids still did.

Chunky. Hefty. Big-boned. For parents of overweight children, it's easy to minimize reality. But the consequences of a heavy childhood can be devastating later in life. In fact, the lack of physical activity in our society, combined with poor food choices, may actually result in a generation of children with shorter life spans than their parents.

Encourage physical activity and better nutrition. Get out there with your kids and throw the ball, strap on the bike helmet, lace up the hiking shoes. Do whatever it takes to get your kids as active as kids once were. Activity, diet and weight-bearing exercise will help your child live stronger, and live longer.
